EXPERIENCE

Chile - 2017- current - She Drives Us

Part of the development team that brought to life "She Drives Us" in Chile, I am in charge of the Frontend of the web (developed on Angular 4) and the mobile application (Ionic 3).

Since it is a team of 5 I was also responsible for the maintaince of the app (at first in Heroku and now in AWS) in some cases had to take charge of Backend (JAVA) and make queries to database (on mySQL).

I'm also in charge of monitor the services and make bash programs to promote them to from one environment to the next.

Quito - 2015-2017 - AIDEA

Lead developer on a starup, dedicated to create and maintain websites for SMEs.

Worked on several projects, mainly on AngularJS and in a some cases Wordpress.

I made several responsive websites on basic HTML with CSS, coordinated the work with the sales team and the desingers team to turn the idea the client had into a website, a landing page or an email template for their products.

Learned a lot about desing, user experience and even about sales.
